DECORATIVE PANELS

Wood is a natural product containing distinctive differences in color and grain configuration.

Each plank is manually handcrafted and when combined together will create a unique wall decoration.

Mineral streaks, cracks, and other imperfections may be present and are not considered defects. The photos shown above may not accurately represent wall color due to limitation of the printing process.

Inspired by Nature

A modern interior space featuring a dining area with a black marble table and orange chairs. A large potted plant stands against a wall composed of large, light-colored rectangular panels. To the left, a brown leather armchair is visible next to a side table with a lamp. A tall, dark shelving unit with books and decorative objects is also present. The floor is covered with a grey rug.
